The purpose of this course is to provide students with an overview of the history and the contributions of a select group of the diverse cultures in the United States of America. The twenty-first century learner must be aware of and appreciate the various cultures of America in order to have a global, cultural perspective, to increase tolerance and appreciate diversity.

Course Description: One Semester
Beginning with a study of the indigenous people students will explore ethnicity in America. Key concepts that transcend all ethnic groups will be identified, analyzed and researched to promote cultural awareness as a way to advance understanding and tolerance in a society that was founded as a nation of immigrants.

Goal:
Through learning about the many cultures of this course of study, the goal is through learning and understanding; one will help create an environment of tolerance and respect.